

STANDARD WARRANTY

All products sold by Everlast Welders Australia Pty Ltd, ABN 38 606 881 118, (Everlast-AU), are warranted under the following terms and conditions:

For the first 12 months all products are covered to the full extent as provided by Australian law. Repair or replacement will be the responsibility of Everlast-AU.

An additional 4-year warranty (a total of 5 years) is provided by Everlast Power Equipment Inc. 329 Littlefield Avenue, South San Francisco, CA USA 94080 (Everlast-USA). This additional warranty is administered by the Australian Distributor of Everlast-USA, currently Everlast-AU. The additional warranty only applies to new Everlast welders, plasma cutters, multi-process units, and water coolers. It is provided to the original purchaser only and is not transferable. The extended warranty is not applicable to commercial, industrial, or professional users.

Welder, Plasma Cutter, and Water Cooler Warranty

All new Everlast welders, plasma cutters, multi-process units, and water coolers sold by Everlast-AU or an authorised reseller shall be warranted against breakage, malfunction or failure resulting from manufacture defect for a total period of five (5) years following the date of shipment. Non-functioning or damaged units shall be repaired or replaced at the repair facility designated by Everlast-AU. Everlast, at its discretion, may opt to refund the purchase price (minus depreciation*).

During the first year of the warranty Everlast-AU will cover all shipping costs associated with the return or replacement. In years two to five, the customer will pay for the all shipping costs associated with the return or replacement.

Items such as electrodes, contact tips, nozzles, cups, shields, liners, etc., considered to be consumable items, are NOT under warranty except for defect in workmanship. Additionally, certain items such as torches, foot pedals, switches, cables, etc. may be individually exchanged without returning the entire unit assembly should a failure with these items occur. These items are covered separately under a 12-month warranty stated below. Everlast-AU will not be responsible for time/contract loss or delay from unit failure, damages occurring from improper or unskilled operation, damages resulting from improper maintenance, improper wiring, poor quality power sources, abuse or neglect. Warranty will not cover damage caused by metal or other particles settling onto the circuitry. Especially in dirty environments, welders and plasma cutters should periodically be cleaned with compressed air. This includes preparation when the unit has been not used for some time as even non-metallic dust can be conductive if it absorbs moisture from the air. The fitting of a mains-power plug of less capacity than the original, or reducing the size of the earth terminal on the plug provided will specifically void this warranty. Nor will Everlast-AU assume responsibility for the customer's failure to heed/read safety instructions, to read and understand operator's manual, obey occupational laws or to ensure the unit's safe operation complies with national, state or local laws, personal injury arising from the inherent risks involved with welding or plasma cutting, including burns, electric shock or death. This warranty will not cover damage caused by the use of accessories not sold by or approved by Everlast, including, but not restricted to, Foot Pedals, Plasma Torches, and Spool Guns. No other warranty is expressed or implied.

 Depreciation as it applies to faulty items:

Everlast-AU may, at its discretion, choose to pay out the remaining warranty instead of repairing or replacing a faulty product based on the following:

- End of Year One, Purchase Price less 35%
- End of Year Two, Purchase Price less 60%
- End of Year three, Purchase Price less 80%
- End of Year Four, Purchase Price less 90%

* Freight on Warranty Repairs and Replacements:

Everlast-AU will cover the freight cost both ways in Year One to the extent of the rates published on the Everlast-AU web site. If the customer is in a remote area, the customer agrees to pay any freight costs over and above the published rates.

After Year One the customer agrees to pay all freight and insurance costs.

The customer shall be responsible for any damage due to faulty packaging.

Everlast-AU agrees to make all freight arrangements if requested, and to pass on all benefits of its commercial freight arrangements.

Torch and accessory warranty:

Torches, guns, foot pedals, and cables supplied with a welder or plasma cutter or bought separately are warranted under a separate warranty for a period of 12 months following the date of purchase against manufacturing defects. No warranty is expressed or implied in regards to the fitness of the product for any particular application or use. Damages or malfunctions related to abuse, misuse, burns, and any condition or issue arising from improper maintenance or use are not covered under warranty. Damage to water-cooled torches used without water shall not be covered under warranty. Damage arising from the use of plasma torches without an additional external filter/dryer, in addition to the water trap provided with the unit shall not covered. Consumables and torch guides shall not be warranted other than to be free from manufacturing defects at time of delivery. They are not warranted against wear or damage resulting from use.

Balance of Time:

Any warranty replacement or repaired units, and torches shall be warranted for the balance of time remaining from the date of the original purchase on all products. The warranty date shall not renew or start over once the unit is repaired, serviced, or replaced. All warranty periods except consumables shall commence with the date of original retail purchase. Consumables shall be considered for replacement or adjustment only at the time of receipt. Consumable should be inspected and issues addressed immediately upon customer receipt.

30 Day Money-Back Guarantee

Customers may return the product within 30-days from receipt for a full refund provided it is in "as new" condition, and in all the original packaging. If the product does not conform to the published specification Everlast covers all freight. If the customer has just changed his or her mind, freight both ways is deducted from the refund.

The refund will be processed once the product has been received by Everlast and the condition of the product assessed.

Warranty Registration:

No registration by the customer is required for this warranty to apply.

Customers are urged to retain the Test Certificate provided with the machine(s).

Customers that purchase through an approved reseller may be asked to provide proof of purchase.
